border="0" /> Do you take prescription meds? Does someone you love take prescription meds? Did you know that properly prescribed prescription meds is the no. 3 cause of death in America, according to the American Journal of Medicine?  Inkberry | Herb no. 1 for cancer disorders The name Inkberry derives from the practice of using the juice from the berries of this plant as a ready made natural ink for writing letters home during the U.S. war between the states when supplies or regular ink were short. The root of this herb has the particular ability to excite the entire glandular system to expel mercury. It has achieved distinction in the battle to dissolve cancers and tumors. It is taken by Native Americans to prevent and dissolve cancers and tumors. When using Inkberry keep the bowels open with a natural bowel cleaner, such as Cascara Sagrada or Buckthorn or combination C.C.E.-W, otherwise, you may experience some nausea or discomfort as the Inkberry dissolves the cancer or tumor. Use a bowel cleaner in sufficient quantities to produce at least two, preferably three, bowel movements or more per day. Usually the sick feeling clears up within ten minutes after the bowel movement. This good habit of cleaning, and keeping the bowel this clean, may be continued for as long as a person wishes to enjoy good health. Dose | For daily maintenance as a prevention of cancers or tumors, 10 to 20 drops. If dissolving a cancer or tumor, 40 to 80 drops two to three times per day. To order Inkberry, click here.  Osha | Herb no. 2 for cancer disorders Osha is, in many ways, related to the herb Angelica and can be used for similar purposes. Osha, however, has been used, not just for the stomach to promote proper stomach acid, but has much successful folk use for what we now know are immune system problems and problems resulting from virus attacks. North American pioneer medicine is not speculative, but rather very direct. You used what you knew worked, by use and direct observation, and just solved the problem. And if it is a purely physical problem, it gets solved in a hurry. Even when it was not purely physical, at least some relief from suffering could be expected. Osha belongs to this class of remedies, and survives as folk knowledge because of its reliability and not because of scientific experimentation. Hence, its reputation in the use of destroying cancerous conditions and correcting immune system problems, by, as we know today, reviving the immune system and getting the body in condition to use its own natural potent weapons of immunity. Dose | 40 drops per day as maintenance of the immune system, and eliminate the junk foods and the crummy yummys from the diet. 40 to 80 drops, three times per day, to recover immune functions. In crisis conditions, give 40 drops per hour, keep the person covered up warmly [with natural fiber bedding] and let them sweat it out. Give a cup of Yarrow for any thirst during this procedure. To order Osha, click here. Sheep Sorrel | Herb no. 3 for cancer disorders The Shaker religious community of the U.S. puts forth as one of their principles, the concept of health as being normal and illness as being abnormal. Part of their search for health includes the knowledge of how to use Sheep Sorrel to prevent scurvy. Scurvy, as we know today, is a potentially fatal disease caused by a deficiency of a vitamin called Vitamin C. The effects caused by scurvy are very similar to what happens in the case of advanced age where deterioration of the body takes place and death ensues. When it was first used by the Shakers, they, as other people, had never heard of vitamins. Yet, they knew Sheep Sorrel prevented scurvy. They also used it to cure scrofula [glandular swellings], skin diseases, boils [with external applications], and, in extract form, to cure cancers and tumors.

Here is a plant which combines the unique features of combating the ravages of aging and reverses the condition of bad cells. It is understandable that many people enjoy making Sheep Sorrel a part of their daily supplemental program. A more recent development is to incorporate Sheep Sorrel into a support formula known as P.C.- C. to combat bad cells which can be used in the same way as Sheep Sorrel.

Dose | 40 drops, 3 times per day. In times of crisis, as with boils and swellings, 40 to 80 drops hourly while awake. If bad cells in the body, then 1 tbl. 3 times per day. For an external application: Apply to the skin of the affected area one after the other 1) Vitamin E with Selenium from 100 i.u. capsules; 2) Herbal Adjustment; and, 3)

Oil of Cajeput.

Then soak a single layer of cheese cloth or absorbent gauze with Sheep Sorrel. Place the cloth over the area. Lay a piece of plastic sandwich wrap over this, cover with another cloth and fix in place.

Leave on overnight, each night, until the area is corrected. In the morning, remove and discard the application [never reuse the application]. Wash the area and allow to dry. If needed, a daytime application, in the same manner, can be done to speed the healing process.

Spring Violet | Herb no. 4 for cancer disorders

Both leaves and flowers are active. A specific for ear disturbances and has a soothing effect on inflamed surfaces. For headache, saturate a cotton cloth [cheese cloth or absorbent gauze] and apply to the back of the neck, persistently, until discomfort lifts.

TB [tuberculosis] of the skin and eczema yield to the corrective properties of violets. Since ancient times, cancerous growths, especially of the throat and tongue, are consistently reported to be dissolved.

Dose | For the ear [always work on both ears as they are sympathetic], swab the ear canal with Vitamin E with Selenium oil from 100 i.u. capsules, then insert a cotton ball saturated with Spring Violet extract. Leave in overnight and repeat the procedure for daytime.

This process acts as a time release of constant soothing and healing qualities. The extract may appear hot at first, but this soon abates. Internally, 40 drops to 1 tbl. in a cup of water. Sip slowly, 4 times per day, or as needed for hoarseness.

Sweet Root | Herb no. 5 for cancer disorders

This beautiful, little, erect-standing, yellow-flowered, water loving plant has helped the most helpless of stomach and intestinal cases. Regular daily use of Sweet Root builds immunity; especially against the flu. Where sickness of known or unknown origin had reduced the body to skin and bones and a person could not gain weight back, Sweet Root has worked miracles.

If frostbite, cover the area with Sweet Root extract and alternate warm, hot and cool cloths until circulation returns. Its action is especially centered on normal function of pancreas, spleen, gall bladder, liver, stomach, and intestinal tract. Sweet Root proves the old rule: If you can just get them digesting their food again [good food, not junk food], they can get well regardless of how hopeless it looks. Many people can no longer digest grains, especially wheat.

They eat their wheat bread or pasta or cereal and then it eats them. The lining of the intestines is dissolved. They become allergic, experience diarrhea and or terrible headaches and pains. Sweet Root corrects this.

Sweet Root cleans and repairs the organs of digestion, correcting for too much or not enough stomach acid. Then a person starts absorbing minerals and vitamins -- the stomach is a stomach again.

Tumors, cancers and swellings disappear; even cancers of the lung [here, additionally, Yarrow is also taken at the rate of 40 drops, 3 times per day]. The pancreas, gall bladder, liver and small intestine digest the proteins needed for repair and regaining of weight and strength and a sparkle can be seen in the eyes. For serious conditions, take 40 drops, 3 times per day.

Dose | Start with 10 drops per meal and gradually work up to 40 drops per meal, if needed. Sweet Root not only digests our food, it digests chronic accumulated debris out of the body. So, start slowly and use with a good bowel program to remove this chronic debris.

By using a good bowel program, wastes are removed more frequently [two, and preferably, three times per day]. This prevents reabsorption of wastes being cleaned out, and prevents sick feeling. You will note a pleasant difference with the digestion. To build immunity take 40 drops per day.

Una de Gato | Herb no. 6 for cancer disorders

Is a Spanish named herb. Translated, the herb name, Una de Gato, means Claw-of-Cat or, as we would say in English, Cat's Claw. In the remote area of Iquitos, Peru, where Una de Gato is at home, it is very widely used and depended upon to handle a wide variety of problems, including those of a serious nature.

Una de Gato is the bark of the jungle and highland dwelling vines of the two plant species, Unicaria quianensis and Unicaria tomentosa. These are the only two species represented throughout South America.

The curled projection, or claw, that the vine puts out to help it climb into the trees, gives Una de Gato its common name, Cat's Claw. Because of the remoteness of the area where it is at home, in North America we did not know of its long and accepted uses until later in the 20th century.

Thanks to the American researcher, Nicole Maxwell, and her over 30 years of dedicated field research and living with and observing the native use of these and other botanicals, we have first-hand information based on observation and experience from the jungle areas of Peru regarding the use of Unicaria quianensis and Unicaria tomentosa. Both are good. The preferred species she recommends as a first choice, however, is the quianensis.

Additionally, German and French sources, and users there, have shared their enthusiastic results, and simply can not be silenced in their wholehearted endorsement of the tomentosa species of Una de Gato.

In more enlightened and tolerant areas of the world, such as Peru, where freedom of speech regarding herbs and folk medicine is an accepted and appreciated fact, sellers of herbs must put the traditional and accepted uses on the side of the herb package.

Unlike

North America, where you are not even allowed to claim that an herb is high fiber or low fat or low sodium without a scientist saying you can, and that after a very expensive and lengthy process of proof which may cost as much as 200 million dollars to make such a sweeping claim.

Here is what is listed in Peru as the traditional and accepted South American Native folk medicinal uses of Una de Gato. Take Una de Gato to correct arthritis, rheumatism, cancer, gastritis, irregularities of the female cycle.

From all reports, this is one of the South American Indians' very best arthritis remedies. Although it is not scientifically accepted, people there use it and get rid of their arthritis, including the type we call rheumatoid arthritis, where the body is actually fighting itself.

Una de Gato is also, especially, noted for its anti-viral properties, tumor dissolving properties, its effects on cellular regeneration and cardiovascular repair. As in all jungle areas, one of the things which must be guarded against is infections. Una de Gato is a potent immune system builder.

This is especially important in conditions described as rheumatoid arthritis and or osteoarthritis, where the body is attacking itself, commonly called auto-immune reactions. Una de Gato reestablishes the proper immune system orientation for cells that are true friends and those that are the actual foes.

A strong immune system is essential to reversing the effects, and prevention, of any kind of disease. Hence, a wide range of disorders are reported to be corrected by the use of Una de Gato in Peru and Europe.

Very well documented South American medical information shows Una de Gato to be nearly miraculous in combating cancer, even in advanced stages, where as much as 10% of body cells are in a state of metastasis. Because of the shared reputation Una de Gato has earned for itself, no immune problem or cancer is regarded, in Peru, as incurable.

Dose | 40 drops, 3 times per day to maintain immunity. For disease conditions listed above, 1 tsp. to 1 tbl. 3 times per day.

With the use of Una de Gato, as with any herb which destroys bad cells, do use a good bowel management program which produces 2, and preferably 3, easy and complete bowel movements per day.

In this manner, the wastes and poisons the body is getting rid of, can be eliminated from the body and nausea is prevented. This allows the body to clean itself up and to get well. Common sense and good sense, both, demand that you eliminate anything from the diet and the environment which is a poison.

A good place to start, regarding what you eat, is any food with any kind of chemical additives such as: chemical dyes, preservatives, flavor magnifiers, stabilizers, pesticides, herbicides, and the like. Eliminate junk foods.

Whole Apricot | Herb no. 7 for cancer disorders

Dr. Ernest J. Krebs, a noted authority on cancer, has often stated that if a person eats 6-12 apricots kernels per day, they will never have to worry about cancer. He recommends peach or cherry kernels, as well. Contained within these kernels is a very small amount of a substance called nitriloside amygdalin [laetrile, vitamin B-17]. It goes directly to a cancer cell, stings it, and kills it.

This is especially true of glandular cancers, such as the prostate and other glands. The same is true for moles on the skin and internal tumors. For moles, take Whole Apricot internally and also apply Whole Apricot and Oil of Cajeput, 3 times per day, to the area until corrected. There is no fear necessary for this extremely small amount of cyanide; remember Vitamin B-12 is also a cyanide compound and is absolutely essential to life or a person develops a deadly disease known as pernicious anemia.

Head lettuce, as a further example, contains a very small amount of opium.

Although it is not recommended, head lettuce does not cause a person to go unconscious or stupefied, and head lettuce is still eaten. Once you taste apricot kernels, you can recognize an accentuated almond taste. That is the part that kills the cancer cells.

It is also present in almonds, but to a much lesser extent. You may find your body is hungry for this taste and the truly wonderful effect it has. The safe rule is not to eat any more apricot kernels than you would of the apricot fruit during a day.

Dose | 10-20 drops per day, as a daily maintenance. 40 drops to 1 tbl. 3 times per day, if cancer in the body. Keep the bowels open to expel the dead, nauseating cells and poisons with a good bowel program which produces 2, and preferably 3, bowel movements per day.

If necessary to quickly relieve the nausea of this regimen, take, as needed, 10 to 40 drops of a poison antidote such as Black Cohosh or Virginia Snake Root. Additionally, an enema can be taken. Usually, within 10 minutes of taking the enema you will feel better. If necessary, repeat the enema.

B.P.-W | Herb no. 8 for cancer disorders

The combination effect of some herbal combinations is comparable to beautiful music played with all the necessary elements of harmony, rhythm and melody. The herbs blend and support each other and become much more than each separately.

Such a combination is B.P.-W. Here the combined attention is to provide the strength to clean and normalize the blood stream. It cleans out anything touched by the blood, whether it be cancerous cells, tumors, yeasts and other types of fungus, germs, virus organisms, floating trash, irritating acid crystals, urea and heavy metals.

B.P.-W also provides nourishment for the red and white blood cells as well as the bone marrow. B.P.-W can be taken with confidence to provide a generous supply of organic iron and rejuvenating materials.

Note | B.P.-W has a companion formula known as B.C.-W [blood cleaner]. It is a matter of practitioners choice as to which is chosen for cleaning. Both are excellent blood cleaners. B.P.-W leans a little more toward also getting glandular areas to give up their poisons, whereas B.C.-W leans a little more toward also getting the organs to give up their poisons, but both will do a fine job of cleaning. In the process, many diseases just can't stay in the body.

Dose | 40 drops, 3 times per day. More can be taken, if needed, once accustomed to its effects. Take with a good bowel program to produce at least 2, and preferably 3, bowel movements per day. This handles the increased evacuation of poisons and prevents sick feeling when cleaning the blood.

Lapacho | Herb no. 9 for cancer disorders

Experienced herbalists consider that both the Tabebuia altissima [purple flowered] and Tabebuia avellanedae [red flowered] varieties should be mixed together for the best possible effects. South American medical doctors proclaim nothing short of miracles for quick relief of pain for cancers of all types as well as their cure within one month in many cases.

Once again, South American Indians made known a tree which they have used for thousands of years to cure their people. The first was the Cinchona tree bark which yields quinine and cures malaria. Lapacho taken as a boiled tea three times per day [one heaping teaspoonful of the bark to make one cup of the tea] is reported to be their method. The extract is possibly many times stronger if made properly.

The chemistry of Lapacho is quite well known to the scientific world. Dr. Frederick Koch, M.D., used substances from the tree bark called quinones during the 1930's in Detroit, Michigan, with astonishing results to cure even advanced cancer cases before going to South America in order to continue his practice.

He especially used a single quinone, which he described as oxidizing or burning up the encapsulated pockets of stagnant cancer-causing points. He reports in this way he was able to provide oxygen for the breath of life to continue for the patient. Lapacho actually has 16 quinones never before discovered together in nature.

The jungle Lapacho tree is completely immune to fungus infections unlike other trees. It should not be thought that the limit of Lapacho's abilities are confined to cancer, according to Alec de Montmorency, expert on exotic folk remedies. He has collected medical information during the last 20 years on the use of Lapacho in various South American countries.

He reports the following list of problems that medical doctors using Lapacho have solved: Anemia, leukemia, cancer of all types, lupus, inflammation of the reproductive organs, Hodgkin's disease, Parkinson's disease, colitis, arteriosclerosis, gastric problems, leukorrhea, cystitis, hemorrhages, prostate inflammation, polyps, psoriasis and eczema.

Dose | South American information indicates 40 to 80 drops of the extract in a cup of water three to four times per day. 20 drops per day as a preventative.

Chickweed | Herb no. 10 for cancer disorders

Chickweed is one of the all-purpose herbs. It has the effect of soothing and healing whatever it comes in contact with. It has been used on shrunken tissues such as the drawing up of the fingers where tendons will not relax. Congestion of the liver is often opened up with Chickweed by internal and external use.

The ranges of chest troubles covered include pleurisy, coughs, colds, bronchitis and hoarseness. In addition to this, the list of known relief includes the following: rheumatism, inflamed and weak bowels, stomach inflammation, kidney trouble, scurvy, ease the heat of hemorrhoids and their sharp pains and open the tiny blood vessels around the liver so that it is soft and functioning.

It should also be mentioned that Chickweed is much prized by the American Indians for swelling of all kinds, redness of the face, boils, blood poisoning, cancer-swollen testes, and ulcerated throat and mouth.

Dose | 20 to 60 drops three times per day in tea or under the tongue. Can be applied externally over the kidneys on gauze soaked with the extract.

Chuchuhuasi | Herb no. 11 for cancer disorders

Chuchuhuasi is the South American Indian name for the rain forest tree known botanically as Maytenus macrocarpa. Its home is the steamy jungles of Peru, where it is well known and used by the people, especially in and around Iquitos, Peru on the Amazon river. Because of the remoteness of this area, its use was unknown to the rest of the world until recent times.

Yet, it is now, perhaps, the most popularly used rain forest herb in Peru. Life in a jungle environment means dealing with infections, bites and diseases of many kinds. Remedies must be found and used. Chuchuhuasi serves this multi-purpose function, and it is commonly taken in the liquid extract form.

Among Chuchuhuasi's strongest properties is the building of immunity and, at the same time, enhancing sexual activity and function. The ability of Chuchuhuasi to do this has attracted strong scientific interest.

This is accomplished by using the root bark as a liquid and taking orally three times per day. Rather than just working on the relief of symptoms, Chuchuhuasi apparently works on the actual cause of arthritis and, in this manner, restores joints to working order. This, of course, has aroused considerable excitement in the scientific community.

The same can be said regarding Chuchuhuasi's anti-tumor properties. The USDA [United States Department of Agriculture] has isolated the alkaloid [active bitter compound] maytansine as being most prominent in the compounds believed to be active in the shrinkage of tumors. As if all this would not be enough to recommend the daily use of Chuchuhuasi, it is also applied to the skin to repel jungle mosquitoes.

Now, the mosquitoes of the Peruvian jungle are rumored, by the local inhabitants, for the benefit of tourists, to be, So large you can hear them when they walk, and Senior, they may even possess backbones! At any rate, accounts of their ferocity are legendary and Chuchuhuasi undoubtedly a welcome remedy.

Dose | 40 to 80 drops 3 times per day as maintenance. 1 tsp. 3 times per day for more serious cases. Externally as given above.

Greasewood | Herb no. 13 for cancer

This remedy comes from the American Indian Pharmacopoeia [listing of official Indian medicines]. Greasewood bush has dark, sticky, resinous-filled leaves and stems. It has the distinct taste of telephone poles and creosote, hence its common name Greasewood Bush.

It performs a very valuable service as a douche for the female system [20 drops of extract to a cup of water]. Greasewood is most valuable due to the rising widespread use of commercial antibiotics whose use encourages the growth of the many types of fungi [funguses], in the body.

Jason Winter's Red Clover Tea blend employs Greasewood as an agent to dissolve tumors and cancers on the advice of the American Indian. Indeed of the Indian nations, the Eapoch, Pimas, and Maricopias of the desert southwest have long employed Greasewood to be effective in the following conditions: weight reducing, prostate trouble, skin and stomach cancer, leukemia, cancer, arthritis, warts, chronic backache, bronchitis troubles and to stimulate normal hair growth

Protein | Herb no. 15 for cancer disorders

[High quality pre-digested protein fraction of milk]. Milk has often been introduced as Nature's most perfect food. It probably would be -- if it could be digested. Eighteen percent of the North American population, for instance, has a milk intolerance to cow's milk. That means, for them, milk is a foreign substance which cannot be properly digested.

Hence, allergies, skin problems, colds, flu and worse occur. This is unfortunate when a person cannot eat the food which might help them. Milk was meant to be a fully sustaining diet for the young, in humans, for at least the first six months. Now, if you could find a way to digest milk, it could become one of the most important protein sources in the diet.

A way has been found. Digestive enzymes [proteins that break down food substances] have been added to the finest proteins in milk. The result is a life-sustaining source of very high quality protein with very few calories.

Remember, cancer patients die, finally, unless mishandled through ignorance, from protein starvation. This can be prevented by giving an adequate protein intake of high quality digested protein. For the normal person who wishes to slow down the ravages of aging and its sorrows, protein, vitamins and minerals come to the rescue.

Take enough so that you see the difference. For training athletes, a protein supplement, plus protein in the regular food, gives a double intake of protein for rapid development. Heal injuries and surgical operations quickly with increased protein intake.

To stabilize high or low blood sugar levels, an adequate amount of high quality protein intake, taken frequently and well digested, is vital for normalization of either condition.

For young women developing tissue integrity, protein is a must. It may take several months to re-develop true natural stamina from adding adequate protein to the diet, or longer, if under continuing stress. Think about it.

A person could have gotten worse under stress. To not get worse and actually get ahead of the game is quite something. At any rate, what else would you have been doing? Hence, be patient and rich rewards will be yours, my friend.

Dose | 40 to 80 drops, daily, following meals, or if need be, in place of meals. If diabetic [high blood sugar] or hypoglycemic [low blood sugar], then up to 1 tsp. or more taken 5 times per day.

Red Clover | Herb no. 16 for cancer disorders

Red Clover owes some of its richness to the ability of extracting calcium, silicon and mineral salts from the earth. It promotes an alkaline environment of the blood stream, which is antagonistic to cancer.

It has been long recognized as an anti-cancer herb, which promotes a healthy granulation of the affections and their dissolution. It is admirable for correcting lymphatic problems, kidney conditions, malignant ulcers and sores of long standing.

Dr. Jethro Kloss [a noted early 20th century American herbalist], praises it highly Extended and successive use of Red Clover extract has been responsible for removing external cancer and old skin ulcers Wet a large area of the skin surface several times daily with the extract. The rich iron and mineral content has made it a favorite of Russian folk medicine for shortness of breath and anemia.

Dose | 20 to 40 drops three times per day on the tongue or in juice or water. Apply or spray on one tablespoonful, or more, each time, if external cancer or shingles.

Red Clover Blended | Herb no. 17 for cancer disorders

This combination was made famous by desperate amateur American herbalist, Jason Winter.

Necessity being the mother of invention, he cured himself of cancer. In the process, he developed this herbal combination to do the job. Now many others have used this combination and report similar results and claims for its effectiveness in eliminating cancer. The herbal components of the formula perform strongly together as a team to increase each others effect over what they produce if taken separately.

Greasewood by itself has a long history of having been used to dissolve cancers and tumors by the American Indians in the desert southwest. Red Clover is the prime herbal alternative [regulating herb] of northern American Indians, for counteracting scrofulous [lymphatic] disorders and skin disease, and as an antidote for cancer. It is also a specific for the kidneys and thereby, helps with the removal of toxic material from the body.

Buchu is known to be rich in potassium and facilitates the removal of irritating poisonous wastes from the blood and lymph through the kidneys while at the same time immediately soothing any inflammation that might be caused from poisons being eliminated. Buchu provides the spark, which coordinates this highly effective herbal team.

Internal dosage | 10 to 20 drops daily as a preventative. One teaspoon after meals, to kill and dissolve bad cells. In very advanced cases, up to one tablespoon three times per day. The amount taken should be managed in this manner: Give only as much as the body can eliminate daily without nausea or discomfort. Also, one tablespoon of C.C.E.-W per day and one tablespoon of Alfalfa [multi-vitamin, mineral and protein supplement] three times per day.

When using Red Clover Blended for dissolving cancers, be sure to use in conjunction with a good bowel management program that produces at least two, and preferably three, easy and complete movements per day. To flush out what Red Clover Blended is killing and dissolving to avoid nausea and sick feelings.

External application | Work in this manner: Each night, apply Vitamin E with Selenium from 100 or 400 i.u. capsules to the area as an oxygen extender [bad cell and tumors cannot exist in areas of good oxygenation], then apply Oil of Cajeput [decongestant and pain reliever].

Then, soak a single layer of cheesecloth or absorbent gauze with Red Clover Blended and wrap this around, or place over, the area to be corrected. Cover this with plastic sandwich wrap to form a thermal and moisture barrier and drive the herbs into the area, while pulling poisons out through the skin. In the morning, remove and discard the application.

Wash the area and allow the dry. Then repeat the application procedure for the daytime just as you did for the night ime repeat in the fashion until well A debt of gratitude for the formula concept of Red Clover Blended is owed to one of the finest naturopathic physicians ever, from Chicago, Illinois [USA], Dr. Michael Michaels.

Reishi Mushroom | Herb no. 18 for cancer disorders

Is the Japanese word for a healing mushroom, much researched in Japan. The wisdom of the use of this mushroom means several species, or more than one of this type comes to us originally, from ancient Chinese medicine. Recent investigation of this particular mushroom indicates it works with the body cells to produce a substance known as interferon.

Interferon is a potent, protective, natural protein. It is produced by body cells that have been invaded by a virus; they, in turn, produce the interferon which prevents healthy cells from being invaded by a virus. The Chinese have long used and praised this mushroom to promote longevity. Even a partial list of its uses would be quite impressive.

It is used in cases we would describe as chronic fatigue; also, for tumors, cancer, hypertension [high blood pressure] and immune disorders, including those which fit the pattern of what we describe today as AIDS. The Reishi mushroom is used as a food item in Japan and China by many people, so there seems to be no problem with its use as an herb if a person can normally eat mushrooms.

Further claims made for its use are to relieve breathing problems, liver problems and act as an antioxidant. As an antioxidant, the Reishi Mushroom is used to protect against free radicals [dangerous, destructive, over-active types of oxygen molecules that react with things they shouldn't and eventually cause the breakdowns we describe as various dis-eases and old age] produced in the body through the regular processes of living, environmental poisons, radiation, excessive fat intake, body fat stores maintenance, and frying fats in food preparation.

In order to perform its observed duty, the Reishi Mushroom is thought to combine with these free radicals and render them harmless. Thus, is described then, this gift from the eastern part of the world.

Dose | As a maintenance, 40 drops 3 times per day. 80 drops, 3 times per day, for more involved conditions. For serious conditions, 1 tsp. to 1 tbl. 3 times per day.

Yellow Dock | Herb no. 19 for cancer disorders

Alma Hutchens cites Yellow Dock as a favorite herb of ancient Indians, old time doctors, early settlers and herbal practitioners. Perhaps its prime function is due to its extremely rich organic iron content. Because of this, oxygen for the breadth of life is combined easily with food materials for energy and to oxidize food and reduce them to easily eliminated ash from the depths of the cellular mitochondria [body's furnace].

Yellow Dock is often recommended for prenatal cases so mother and baby can have proper oxygenation from a normal pregnancy. The rich supply of iron provides baby with enough iron to survive on a diet of breast milk for six months after birth without additional iron, as is expected. The solids of Yellow Dock when analyzed are up to 40% iron. This type of iron cannot be picked up by a magnet. Iron formulas often employed in the prenatal diet by modern doctors are straight from iron ore and can cause liver poison and black stools. Yellow Dock's iron is closely associated with the living plant processes and is easily absorbed. Modern science today will do well to recognize the relative activity rates of different types of iron rather than make false assumptions that iron fillings are as good for you as Yellow Dock iron. Healthy mothers and babies speak much for the difference. Herbalists have traditionally used this mineral-rich plant for sore joints, blood from the lungs, tumors, leprosy, cancer, chronic bronchitis, diseased spleen, swollen lymph glands and as a valuable source of iron for male and female systems. Rub the extract on spongy gums each evening until relief. Loose teeth are thus replaced in proper position. Use the extract for shingles by combining Yellow Dock with Burdock to make an application. disorders

The American herbal practitioner, Jethro Kloss, in his monumental work, Back To Eden, aptly describes Sanicle in this manner: This is one of the herbs that could be called a cure-all because it possesses powerful cleansing and healing virtues both internally and externally.

Sanicle's great strength includes its uncanny ability to seek out and find anything, which needs correcting and works on that area first that needs it most. It also deserves distinction as a thinking herb. In other words, if you've got it, Sanicle will find it and fix it, whether the tumor is in the reproductive organs, brain, nervous system, lungs, throat, urinary system or elsewhere.

Sanicle is a bulldozer and builder. There may be temporary discomfort when Sanicle contacts an unwanted obstruction, but it is your reassurance that Sanicle has scored a direct hit. Skin disorders, tumors [also brain tumors], and all manner of morbid material are resolved by Sanicle.

Prolapsis of the uterus [fallen uterus], melancholy [due to toxins], thin mother's milk, morning sickness, diabetes, bee stings, and intermittent fever indicate general categories of its ubiquitous [seemingly everywhere] application.

Dose | 40 drops two to three times per day. If a brain tumor, also apply to entire scalp, back to neck and temples. Rub one tablespoon into the scalp at night and wear a shower cap. Wash the area in the morning. During day rub Herbal Adjustment [another natural herb that can be ordered] into scalp 3 times per day.

Vinca | Herb no. 21 for [leukemia] cancer disorders

Its brilliant blue flowers can be seen blooming at any time during the growing season, even in very cool climates. Vinca is a leukemia remedy for many body types. In those body types where it is the remedy, a marked difference should be noted within the first two weeks of use. Take at the rate of 40 to 50 drops, 3 times per day.

It is in the leaves that we find Vinca's healing virtues. Long used as a cure for nightmares and high blood pressure. It is thought that when a man and wife take the leaves together, it binds them more closely together. Certainly, if it can relieve nightmares, it may also calm marital stresses. Its name, in Latin, means to bind closely together. Vinca is rubbed on muscular cramps, and is used to stop internal bleeding of the nose and mouth.

Dose | 5 to 10 drops, twice per day, for daily use; increase, if necessary, once you are used to the effects of Periwinkle. For nose and mouth bleed, 20 to 40 drops all at one and repeat, as necessary, every 1 to 2 hours. For muscular cramping, gently massage in enough to cover the area and repeat, as necessary, to relax the spasm. For other uses, as given above.

Red Root | Herb no. 22 for [skin] cancer disorders

A cheerful, low growing, early spring, wild flower with delicate white petals and a golden center. The root sap, which is a brilliant red, was used by the American Indians as a cosmetic. It was employed as lip rouge and for facial marks of distinction.

They also applied it, directly, to cure skin cancer and eczema. More modern use shows Blood Root to clear up yellow skin, as in hepatitis caused by a liver infection or congested gall bladder. Even more recent tests have shown the use of Blood Root extract to be one of the major dental discoveries in history. Reports indicate that 60% of the people who lose their teeth do so not because of gum and bone deterioration.

These problems are caused by germs living on the roots of the teeth, destroying gum tissue and the jaw bone in which the teeth rest, as well as the roots of the teeth. These horrible germ colonies are called plaque.

Now for the good news -- studies indicate, after two weeks of applying Blood Root to the gums after each brushing, plaque is reduced by 50%. In another two weeks, half of the remaining plaque is gone, and so on. A novel use of Blood Root, for this purpose, can be achieved by adding 40 drops of Blood Root extract to the water-pick container before cleaning the teeth with the water pick.

Be sure to run a full container of plain water through the water-pick after use to prevent clogging. For very troubled areas, put several drops of Blood Root and Formula OI' Number 11 [bone-flesh-nerve and cartilage restorer] on a piece of cotton, place it between the gum and cheek.

Let it rest there all night and, if necessary, repeat this procedure for daytime use. In larger amounts [30 to 40 drops, three times per day] Blood Root can lower dangerously high blood pressure. No affect is noted on blood pressure if it is not high.

Blood Root is an arterial sedative if it finds the arteries of the body in a cramped condition. To use Blood Root as a mouthwash, remove 1 oz. of mouthwash from a pint bottle, add 1 oz. of Blood Root to the remainder and then use as regular mouthwash.

Dose | 40 drops 3 times per day, internally. Externally, as needed to cover the skin area, 3 to 4 times per day. For the gums, apply as needed, to cover the area each time the teeth are brushed [2-3 times per day].

Broad Beans | Herb no. 23 for cancer disorders

Are known to contain the following: Vitamin A [eyes and skin], B-1 [for the personality], B-2, B-12 [for energy], Choline and Inositol [to dissolve cholesterol], B-3, Niacin [for tongue and skin health], B-5, Pantothenic Acid [for anti-stress], B-15, Pangamic Acid [as a supplier of oxygen], B-17, Laetrile [anti-cancer properties], as well as Vitamins C and E.

Broad Beans also contain Chlorine, necessary for stomach acid manufacture, and impressive amounts of the minerals: calcium, iodine, iron, magnesium, phosphorus, potassium, silicon, sodium, sulphur and zinc.

This impressive array of vitamins and minerals is a potential gold mine -- if we could only digest the things. This problem has now been solved. The technique of waking up the beans to begin the sprouting process makes them digestible, and then making an extract to increase their absorbability unlocks their magic.

Maybe Jack selling his cow for beans in the nursery rhymes wasn't too far off. We might also consider this. Broad Beans contain the valuable protein component, Lysine, to help build immunity and combat and prevent fever blisters and herpes. Broad Beans contain an even more impressive protein component called L-dopamine, known to correct Parkinson's Disease and other shaking disorders.

L-dopamine is a valuable pituitary gland nutrient. All in all, when you know this, no one can say you don't know beans about research. These broad beans are a gift of the Creator. Enjoy them.

Dose | 10 to 40 drops, 3 times per day. If active case of herpes, fever blisters or shaking disorder, 1 tsp. to 1 tbl., 3 times per day.

Golden Bough | Herb no. 24 for cancer disorders

The leaves are the parts used, not the berries. As such, they are beneficial to your health, contrary to what you may have been taught. This is like the old problem with the potato, the part you eat comes from under the ground and is a good food. If you cook and eat the part that grows above the ground it can kill you.

You don't fear eating potatoes, and you need have no fear of adding mistletoe leaves to your diet. Mistletoe is for nerves that are worn to a frazzle. If you feel like crying when someone points their finger at you, it's Mistletoe time. Due to our ancestral memory, many of us do still associate this plant with joy and well being at Christmas time.

To lower chronic high blood pressure due to nervous tension and to correct balance problems and epilepsy, nervous system instability, anxiety, paralysis, weak pulse, poor outflow of blood with each heart contraction [tired from walking across the room], enlarged heart and water retention, put 40 to 80 drops of Golden Bough along with an equal amount of Herbal Adjustment in a cup and drink it as needed.

Mistletoe, among its other virtues, is a beautiful storehouse for the mineral element zinc, which prevents the formation of certain cancers. In Germany, Mistletoe is given medically to post-operative cancer patients to raise their immunity and thus prevents reoccurrence of the cancer. Let's take it now and avoid the problem altogether. Dose
